Thread away.

[editor's note, by Yankee] You know it can't be good when you find out about something because of a blog post entitled "I could feel Yankee's head exploding as I watched it". Tonight, 20/20 had a "special" called "Myths, Lies and Downright Stupidity" (brought to us by that paragon of journalistic integrity, John Stossel). Myth #10 is "Are we really running out of oil or are we just lazy in our gathering methods?". If you have it in you, you can watch the webcast.
