In an attempt to bring order to our haphazard open thread system, we are introducing a new feature called "DrumBeat". Basically, DrumBeat is an open thread that will be automatically posted everyday at 9am Eastern time. This thread will serve as the sole open thread each day. Occasionally, editors and contributors will drop news tidbits or discussion starting points in the content of the message.

We encourage readers to keep the comments in the regular stories on topic and to put all "off topic" comments in the DrumBeat threads.

If everything works properly, the first DrumBeat post will go up at 9am Sunday morning. Enjoy!
