Fo4 over at FTD points us to an article by Shepherd Bliss entitled "Volcanoes, Oil, and Prophets." It's a long piece, integrating ideas from Heinberg, Kunstler, and Diamond ranging from geology to psychology. Worth the time.

A snippet:

We live today under the volcanic threat of peak oil, yet most people remain in denial about the potential dangers. According to geologists -- experts in volcanoes and oil -- slowly flowing crises face humanity as our supply of non-renewable fossil fuels dwindles. Few admit how disastrous peak oil could be.
