Something we've talked about already, but more evidence of it. The EIA officially is stating that oil demand will outstrip supply in the fourth quarter of this year, as well as in Q1 and Q4 of 2006. (hat tip: peakoil.com)

The link to the .pdf report can be found here. Happy reading.

Note: this was over on the other site, but this is pretty important, so I moved it over here.
