Topic: Site news

We are in the process of consolidating and streamlining our Facebook presence. Currently, it is spread out across several profiles. The Facebook group, personal profile, and old page are all going to be retired, and have been replaced by a new page.

If you would like to follow us on Facebook, you can help us out by "liking" our new Facebook page. If you are currently logged into Facebook, you should be able to like the page using the link below.
