Via Educated Guesswork, it has come to my attention that the wingnuts over at Rapture Ready maintain a Rapture Index. Delightfully, it includes the price of oil, so that rising oil prices indeed bring us closer to the long-awaited rapture. The index just went up one to 154. However, this is down significantly from it's all-time high of 182 shortly after 9/11. Graph below the fold. Good to know that these things are being tracked in a properly quantitative manner.
